1. [REDACTED] the financial condition of the Partido Popular (PP) of Mexico is at a new low. [REDACTED] on the average the party 25X1X is able to collect in dues and donations only 500 pesos a month with which to defray expenses. As a result the party has been unable to pay its monthly rent of 1,050 pesos for offices located at Madrid #14. Dr. Jose Prado Romana, owner of the property, informed party leaders that because of the fact that as of 31 May rent for four months had not been paid, he would be obliged to have them evicted. The leaders of the PP, anticipating that Dr. Prado Romana would attempt to attach the office equipment at party headquarters, have sent their metal desks and typewriters to the Universidad Obrera for storage, and their archives and membership lists to the offices of the CTAL for safekeeping.
2. [REDACTED] the financial condition of the party will not improve in the near future because of the almost complete lack of organization within the party in the Federal District. He cited the fact that a meeting of the officers of the various committees within the Federal District scheduled to take place on 26 and 27 May, was attended by only twelve individuals instead of the expected fifty or sixty. The meeting was rescheduled for 6 and 7 June.
